It is inspired and lights the inner journey with its blessing."*

welcome to july...

It's a privilege and a joy for us to be performing with Sacred Earth on the Sunshine Coast this Friday night (July 2) in Maleny, and Saturday night (July 3) in Eumundi – we look forward to seeing those of you who can make it to these very blissful and uplifting evenings of soulful, sacred sound. Details and tickets are available via the link below.

We recommend you book in advance – not only for the discount, but to ensure you secure a seat! It also helps the wonderful chai and cake team to know how many to cater for. (Anyone who can offer a lift to a lady at Sunshine Beach, please let us know.)

June saw a bit of upheaval for us, but we are pleased to have remained in effortless flow throughout...Sahayak is fine, thank you all those who sent their wishes and prayers and lots of loving White Light. (His operation is scheduled for July.)

June culminated in a lovely few days at Brisbane Mind Body Spirit Festival, which was an anniversary for us – two years since we met at the side of the stage at the very same festival! Also special was some synchronicity that led to us inviting wonderful erhu player Nicholas Ng to join us on stage. It was divine. Watch this space for further developments and collaborations :o)

After these beautiful concerts with Prem and Jethro, we intend to stay a bit low key for a few weeks, partly for a break after several busy months, and partly to focus more attention on our new CD that is incubating. How delightful!

Stay warm, stay shiny!
Blessings,
Maia
